SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD

By W. W. WHITAKER
When he feels like it.

Mr. Whitaker's condition remain, about the same - with maybe a little improvement. When he starts wanting to write again, we know he will be improving.

The new Episcopal rector, Reverend Michael Engle, certainly is a big man.

We are very sorry to hear that our friend and subscriber, Elmo Weir, died last week.

Grenada Bulldogs will open their football season Friday night (tonight) at Proby Field against the strong Indianola eleven. Be sure to go out and see this game.

A. L. Pressgrove, our Cascilla subscriber, was over Tuesday. He reports that he, Mrs. Pressgrvoe and daughter, had a nice trip to Washington D. C., returning last week.

Jack Webb and Lying Daves caught a sack full of carp at the spillway Monday afternoon.

If this ad prevents ONE accident, then it will have been worthwhile.

Well the Wednesday evening closings are supposed to be over. We do not see why merchants don't get together and make this a year-around thing.

Sheriff Strider, over in the Free State said: "we haven't tried to tell Cook County (Chicago) Illinois how to run their county, and we don't need any help from them here in Tallahatchie County, Mississippi." Or words to that effect.

When we heard that they were expecting a "demonstration" in Greenwood last weekend, we immediately thought that those who were supposed to put on the "demonstration" could have picked many places more suitable for such a "demonstration" than Leflore County or the Free State of Tallahatchie.

Kidnapping is kidnapping, Murder is murder. Those responsible for the crime that occurred in Money last week should pay to the fullest extent of the law!

One of the best signs of fall here in Mississippi is when they start making sorghum molasses.

Worshamville, the settlement out east on highway 8, will soon be a town within itself.

They say that one day early this week that all the boats were not in use on Grenada Lake.

See the story and pictures of Grenada Lake on page 6 of this issue.

We were talking to a fellow from Illinois the other day. He told us that when the Negroes killed the man and his wife down at Vaiden last year that the Chicago paper devoted about 2 inches of space to that story. But, that they have given pages of space to the story about the Negro boy being killed at Money last week.

The NAACP is not needed in the kidnap-killing that took place over at Money last week. The guilty party should be prosecuted to the maximum.

Morgan and Lindsey's new front is indeed a credit to Grenada.

Garner Brothers Funeral Home has a beautiful new Cadillac ambulance, one of the most modern available on the current market.

If you haven't given to the Red Cross Fund - do so TODAY!!

The mobile X-Ray unit will be in Grenada today and Friday, September 8 and 9.

Spain's Big Star celebrated its 2nd anniversary here this week.

According to Mr. Hathorn, the Grenada City Schools (white) have enrolled 1584 pupils. The Negro enrollment is 954. Supt. Buchanan of Holcomb School said that 219 pupils had enrolled there.

Grenada Bulldogs To Play Indianola Here Friday Nite

(By Hugh Ketchum)

The Grenada Bulldogs open the '55 football season Friday night when they are host to the Indianola Indians of the Delta Valley Conference at 8 o'clock. It will be the second game for the visitors, who last week turned in an impressive 19 to 0 victory over Kosciusko.

Coach Sonny Jones will bring a tribe of Indians boasting of one of the state's largest high school lines, averaging 196 pounds per man, and running over with letter-men. A total of 17 letter-men are on the squad. Including ten of last year's starters, which means the Indians are on the warpath for one of their best seasons in years. In 1954 the Indians won 6 and lost 3.

Grenada's Bulldogs, coached by Bob Ellard and his assistants, Jerry Taylor, Pap Hamby and Carl Cooper, are in good condition for the season opener. The team as a whole is young and inexperienced, but potentially the boys shape up as a group that could be the surprise package of North Mississippi this year. They have a lot of hustle; they aren't too small; they are fast enough, and as Coach Ellard says, "this bunch of boys appear to want to play football."

The 1955 starting line-up will be picked from the following boys: Ends James Brasfield, Tom Holley, James Lawrence and Winfred Carter;

Tackles, Charles Ferril, Tom Carroll, Gerald Campbell and Jerry Fowler;

Guards, Jimmy Quinn, James Gray, Spivey Douglass, John Criss and James Roy Perry;

Centers, Jimmy Dean Moore and Ray Edwards;

Quarterbacks, Jake Gibbs, Sam Ricks and Vernon Spence;

Halfbacks, Jackie Todd; Buddy Lott, Hayes Branscome and Gary Geeslin, and Fullback, Shafer Spence.

Lion Oil Company Continues To Offer Scholarships

After five years of operation, the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund has distributed 1,414 scholarships and cash awards, amounting to more than $123,000. We feel this money has been wisely spent, for it has given able Southern students and teachers the opportunity to continue their eduaction. Quite frequently, we know those who win Lion scholarships could not have continued their education, or would have found it extremely difficult to do so, without such aid.

So, once again we are encouraging the students and teachers of our county and area to take advantage of the opportunities offerde them by the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund essay contests.

Watch this paper for further information.

Executive Task

Lesson for September 11, 1955

THE city of Jerusalem was a slum. There is no other good word for it. The people, poor and few and scared, were existing in the midst of rubble. Today in Korea the cardboard shacks are coming down, more permanent houses are being built; but in Jerusalem there was no rebuilding. Everything was left just as it was after the war. How long had that been? One hundred and forty-one years! Four generations—as far back from Nehemiah's time as 1814 is from us. Suppose the city of Washington had never been rebuilt, since the British burned it in the "war of 1812"? Nehemiah was amazed and shocked when he heard about it. Like all prosperous Jews who lived in Persia, he had supposed everything was all right back in the motherland. When they told him how things actually were, he first cried; but then he acted.

Dr. Foreman

Competition

Nehemiah, armed with a royal commission — for Palestine was now a part of the great Persian Empire—turned out to be one of the most remarkable executives in history. He went to Jerusalem as governor; but he saw it was no real city. In those days you could no more have a city without a wall around it than you can have a city today without paved streets, or telephones. The wall was an absolute number one Must. No doubt previous governors had seen as much; but they had done nothing about it. Nehemiah at once went to work on this problem. In 52 days the wall was completed; 52 days to do what for 93 years (since the first "Return") every one else in charge of Jerusalem had failed to do. How did Nehemiah succeed where so many others had failed—or not even tried? The answer, in one sentence, is: Nehemiah was the kind of executive who can make handicaps and handicaps work for him instead of against him. One of the handicaps obviously was the many jealous divisions among the people. The clan-spirit can be shown just as easily in a group of castaways on a desert island, as it can in New York. Nehemiah knew all about this; and he organized his wall-builders by groups according to their occupation. The goldsmiths built here, and the priests built there, and so on. No group wanted to be outdone by any other group, so they all pushed on till it was done. It takes healthy competition to bring out what people can really do.

Fear Can Be Useful

Perhaps the big reason why the wall had never been built was that the people, ill-equipped and leaderless, knew that their watchful enemies would not want Jerusalem to rise again. They were afraid of "reprisals" or raids from one place or another, if they really set to work to build a real city again. Now Nehemiah did not wait till they got over being scared. They never would. So he (so to speak) tied that scare to their coattails, like a pack of firecrackers. He ordered the citizens, as far as it was practical, to build the part of the wall nearest to where they lived. Every man and woman (yes, there were women) working on the wall would think: If this section of wall goes down, my own home will be the first one pillaged! So of course these scared people worked like mad, each one determined that if the wall gave way anywhere, it wouldn't be near his house.

Putting Human Nature To Work

All that business about the spears, and other army equipment—ordering half the people to stand by in battle dress while the rest worked on the wall—may have scared off the enemy raiders; but it did something else: it got the wall built in an amazingly short time. Just the sight of those spears would put everybody into high gear. They wanted to finish that wall before the battle started. It never started; but Nehemiah's dramatic mobilization kept those amateur wall-builders going from dawn till dark. So Nehemiah showed in his time what the best executives have always shown: the skill to use human nature as it is, on the hoof. Executives—governors, presidents, heads of corporations, bishops—could doubtless get better results with better people.

Electric Laundry Equipment

Just think of laundry time being vacation time. Home laundry experts have found that electric home laundry equipment will give the homemaker 17 days of free time in a single year. That's quite a vacation, isn't it?!!

Modern Electric Automatic home laundry is making possible substantial reduction in family clothing requirements. This we agree has been made possible because the homemaker is laundering more frequently.

Home laundry experts say that recent studies have shown that the wardrobe of a four year old girl can be cut from 80 to 40 garments. This, of course, was due to the frequent use of the home laundry equipment.

The reason that fewer clothing items are required, home laundry specialists say, is because the automatic washer, dryer, and ironer make it possible for the homemaker to launder more often, and at any convenient time and without a lot of fuss or tiresome drudgery. She is no longer dependent upon the weather. She can accomplish her laundry task in a comparatively short time instead of using the best part of a work day as was customary before the advent of electric laundry equipment.

It has been pointed out that the average automatic washer on the market today will now wash, rinse, and spin-dry a normal eight pound load of clothes in about 18 to 22 minutes, depending on the nature of the fabric, of course. By the same token this load of wash can be tossed into the automatic electric dryer and be ready for ironing in about 35 or 40 minutes.

Some of our leading manufacturers are cutting the time further by the new combination washer and dryer. Load the washer, set the dial for washing and the dial for drying and forget it. In approximately an hour and a half the clothes are ready to

Chamber Of Commerce News

Rodney Defenbaugh announces that the invitation to be guest speaker at the Dedication of Grenada Lake has been officially extended to President Eisenhower through his secretary. It was decided at a recent meeting of the Dedication Committee, since the president has neither accepted nor rejected the invitation, to leave the door open for his acceptance this year. If he refuses, a definite date will be set early next year for a dedication next summer at which time the parks will be completed and the Grenada Landing leased and in operation.

Hardy Nall, State Park Director, was in the office recently. Work at the parks is not progressing as fast as anticipated, but building always takes longer than patience is willing to allot. Mr. Nall was enthusiastic about the boat rentals at Hugh White State Park and 20 more boats have been added, making 52 in all.

Special thanks goes to Grady Green and John Boyd for free work done on the parking area above the sand beach. The area has been graveled and the terraces sodded. The grading work done by the Engineers would have cost six or seven thousand dollars. The electric pump serving the beach area is also a valuable asset.

The greatest disappointment to the Chamber and the Engineers is the vandalism at Grenada Lake. The recreation stand has been broken into a number of times, and picnic tables have been stolen. Tom Carter of the U. S. Engineers says folks must be educated to respect public property and take care of it. Our newspapers and radio station have agreed to help us with this program of education.

Walter Garner reports that a photographer was here recently and took eleven shots of Grenada scenes, including activities on the Lake, for new kodochrome color postals that will retail for 5c each. We've been trying to promote some new Grenada postals for some time. These will be distributed thru hotels, tourist courts, service stations, bait shops, dime stores, etc., and I'm sure Jackson's will have enough for all. Here's our chance for more advertising.

From the testimonials we have received from users of the Automatic Ironer, it has been proven to be one of the most labor saving appliances on the market today. Once Mrs. Homemaker has gotten the feel of its operation, and has had proper instruction on the handling of the garment, she can sit down, relax and be free from the drudgery of hand ironing. From a health standpoint, it has been proven that hand ironing is the hardest work done in the home.

SPEAKING of CARDS

CAN HE PLAY BRIDGE?

That would seem to be the logical, if unusual, question for a big-league baseball scout to ask a young sandlot whiz before signing him up and handing him a fat bonus. For if he answers yes, it's a clue that he may turn out to be another Ted Williams, Ralph Kiner or Duke Snider.

The interesting clue lies in a recent survey of the card playing interests and habits of major league baseball players.

Gin Rummy is the most frequently-played card game among ball players (which is not too surprising since it's a favorite with many people who have to travel).

The survey also revealed that 30% of the players enjoy Contract Bridge and a high percentage of these are outstanding stars. Obviously ball-players are not "all brawn" since Contract Bridge is regarded as probably the "brainiest" of card games. As most of these players have enjoyed the game since their high school and college days, there appears to be a close affinity between a player's prowess on the baseball diamond and his skill at bidding diamonds.

Runner-up to Gin Rummy in popularity among the players was Hearts, followed by Poker and Pinochle. Canasta, top favorite in all national polls, came in only fifth in popularity among the ball players.

Sixty percent of the major league stars who participated in the survey declared that they played cards frequently, while the remainder play occasionally. Among married ball players, 44% play cards frequently with their families and an additional 50% engage in an occasional family game indicating that the players and their wives find cards a wholesome family activity.

Several of the major league clubs indicated clear-cut preferences for specific games. The most popular game among the Milwaukee Braves, for example, is Cribbage which has its greatest following in New England, former home of the National League team. Contract Bridge has a greater popularity among players on eastern clubs than it does with the midwestern players, who would rather play Pinochle. The four-handed Italian games of Bescala and Prishcal are popular with members of the Brooklyn Dodgers, along with Pitch, Casino and Crazy Eights. Fan Tan is played often by the Washington Senators, but has little appeal for any other club in either league.

Despite these wide differences in tastes, it appears that ballplayers, like ordinary citizens, have found that the pasteboards provide one of the best ways to relax during the long train and plane trips they have to make.

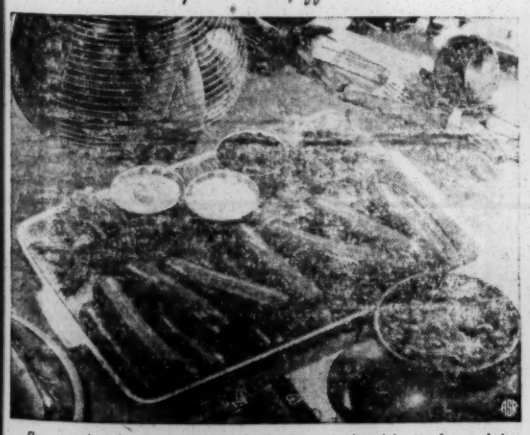
Picnic Time — Frankfurter Time

By Marie Gifford



Summertime is picnic time and what's a picnic without plump, juicy frankfurters?

Served with buns and the "trimmings"— mustard, catsup, horseradish and pickles — and a steaming casserole of baked beans, franks are a perfect choice of picnic food. They're easy to tote, fun to fix and just plain wonderful to eat. Best of all, they eliminate the hours in the kitchen which so often turn a picnic into an ordeal for you.

Whether you're picnicking at the beach or park, in the country or in the back-yard, or in the kitchen because a sudden shower has driven you indoors, here's a sure-fire formula for picnic success. Keep things simple. Arrange franks on one side of a tray, relishes in custard cups or dessert molds on the other. Use pie pans and tin cups for serving, bandanas as napkins and a French vegetable basket or collander of fresh vegetables as a centerpiece.

Frankfurters are a blend of ground beef and pork, lightly seasoned, then smoked in link form over hardwood fires and thoroughly steamed. They're ready to eat when you buy them or may be heated over an open fire or in a pan of boiling water. In the latter case, place the franks in the boiling water, cover and let them stand, off the heat, for 7 to 8 minutes, until heated through. Don't boil the franks or the skins will burst and you'll lose those good meat juices.

In bulk or in the package, franks average 8 to 10 to a pound. The usual allowance is 2 to a serving but remember, picnic appetites are not "usual," so plan accordingly.

Outdoor picnic, indoor picnic — it will be a real success if you star franks with the open-fire flavor!

Sometimes, it's measured by how much you get.

But here's one that's a whopping bargain by both measures.

Because right now—for the [illegible] of the year—you can buy the mostest Buick in history.

That, Mister, is because we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance on top of the long trade-in allowances we've been making all year.

And when we say the "mostest" Buick, we mean the most-wanted Buick ever built—the one that has broken every record in the book—outselling by far all other cars except the two most widely known smaller ones.

We mean the Buick that brings you the most for your money in terms of mighty V8 Power—of real family-size room—of bold fresh styling. The one that gives you the most buoyant ride ever born of all-coil springing.

And we mean the only car blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first transmission built on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Come on in. We're ready and waiting to make you the deal of your life on the most thrilling Buick ever.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick—
Biggest-selling Buick in History! (So we're trading high, wide- and then some!)

They LIVE DANGEROUSLY

AND SO DO YOU

Careful!

TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

In one year 4,300 young lives are snuffed out, over 200,000 injured and maimed for life. Three out of every four of these lives sacrificed to carelessness are from 5 to 14 years of age. TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

School safety patrols are holding down the casualties of children going to or coming from school. Two out of three are killed while outside of school supervision. That's the big reason why it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, to protect little children. Be alert for the unpredictable actions of youngsters at play, crossing streets, chasing balls and riding bikes.

Little ones are thoughtless of danger; perhaps, too, they trust grown folks to guard them. Don't be the one to carry on your conscience the life of a child. Slow down, be alert where children may be at your mercy.

SLOW DOWN – LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

STOP! A moment to remember schools have started in Grenada and Grenada County. Help insure the safety of OUR youngsters. Don't forget TO:— DRIVE CAREFULLY — In a School Zone 15 Miles an hour can be Too fast. — OBEY THE TRAFFIC LAWS — Have your car or truck inspected often. STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSSES — The Miss. law says you must Stop for a school bus loading or unloading whether you are meeting it or passing it. Remember: The child you save might be your own! In case of accident, parties involved must not leave the scene — Call a Policeman or Patrolman!

Grenada Dam Leases To Be Awarded

Col. Thomas B. Simpson, District Engineer of the Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg, Miss., announced recently that bids on leases for three primary commercial recreational sites on Grenada Lake, near Grenada, will be opened at 10:00 a. m., November 14, 1955, at the office of the District Engineer.

These leases will be awarded on the basis of the best offers of development and capability and willingness on the part of the bidder to provide facilities to accommodate the needs of the people visiting the reservoir.

The sites open for bid are: Grenada Landing, which is close to the dam on the south side of the Reservoir. This site will accommodate boat care and rental, overnight and vacation lodging facilities.

Choctaw, which is on the north side of the Yalobusha arm of the Reservoir, is the second site. This will accommodate boat care and rental, overnight and vacation lodging facilities including boat rental and concession facilities at Graysport.

Youngs, and Upper Yalobusha supplementary sites during high reservoir stages. In other words, a bid on Choctaw will include the other three high stage sites on the upper portion of the reservoir. The third site is Skuna-Turkey Creek site which is on the Skuna arm of the Reservoir. This site will accommodate boat care and rental, overnight and vacation lodging facilities including boat rental and concession facilities at the supplementary site at Gums Crossing during high reservoir stages. A bid on this site, like Choctaw, will include the additional high stage site as well.

The annual rental on the three attractive sites is based on a lump-sum fee ranging from $200 for Skuna-Turkey Creek site, to $350.00 on Grenada Landing and $475.00 on Choctaw. These rentals include the additional sites for high reservoir stages. These annual lump-sum rentals are in addition to payment of a percentage of the annual gross incomes, as follows: 3 percent on the first $5,000; 2 percent on the second $5,000; and 1 percent on all gross income over $10,000.00.

The terms of the lease will be for twenty-five years with a renewal for an additional twenty-five years at the option of the lessee. This will provide for full protection for the lessee's capital investment.

The lessee who develops one of these three sites will be in on the ground floor for the development of North Mississippi's newest lake, Grenada Lake. Based on figures of attendance at Grenada Lake this summer without any development at all, this should prove a wise investment in the future.

Bid forms for the leasing of these sites may be secured either from the District Engineer, Vicksburg District, Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 60, Vicksburg, Miss., or the Reservoir Manager, Grenada Reservoir, Grenada, Miss.

Mrs. Charles Trussell, Jr. and children are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mallory Clanton in Webster County while her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Trussell Sr. is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McCormick in Grenada. Both Mrs. Trussells have been ill recently but both are improving at this writing (Friday).

Mr. and Mrs. Mathis Clark and children of Chicago arrived Wednesday night for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lige Abel and family.

Queen Of Hearts Tarts For A Coffee Party

The Knave of Hearts would have good reason to steal these delectable tarts. They are Mocha Chiffon Tartlets made easy as can be with Nescafé, dry, right from the jar, and semi-sweet chocolate. Few women realize how easy it is to flavor desserts with coffee these days. No brewing double-strength coffee any more when coffee desserts are desired. You can use instant coffee dry with the other dry ingredients in a recipe.

For that perfect cup of coffee to serve with the Mocha Chiffon Tartlets, make Nescafé in your hot server. Keep the cover on for a few minutes before pouring, and you'll find the flavor is even better.

Mocha Chiffon Tartlets

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon Nescafé (dry)
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
6 baked tart shells

½ cup sugar

Soften gelatine in cold water. In top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate morsels, ¼ cup sugar, salt, milk and Nescafé (dry). Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat; add gelatine; stir until dissolved. Chill until thickened. Beat egg white until stiff; add remaining ¼ cup sugar while continuing to beat. Fold in mocha mixture and whipped cream. Turn into individual tart shells; chill until firm. Garnish with unsweetened whipped cream; sprinkle with mixture of equal parts of granulated sugar and Nescafé (dry). This recipe makes from 6 to 8 tartlets depending on size of tart shell pans.

In your neighborhood, you'll set the pace in egg money earned with Swift's feeds. We know. We've seen the records made last winter by "PACE-SETTER FLOCK-OWNERS." They fed Swift's feeds and kept track of their results. They made money—even on the lowest feed-egg ratio in history!

There was a good reason. Only Swift's feeds contain Calogen.

Calogen is Swift's new energy ingredient —a special blend of fats. It gives every layer a chance to put more of her feed into eggs and less into body maintenance. It does wonders for egg production. Calogen works together with Swift's quality blend of animal and vegetable proteins for a new kind of feeding efficiency.

Start using Swift's Egg-Laying Feeds and see what a difference Calogen makes! See us today for the right Swift's feed to fit your program.

...with first feed order

Order any Swift's Egg-Laying Feed . . . take home our easy-to-keep egg record chart . . . and you're a Swift's PACE-SETTER FLOCK-OWNER! In token of our appreciation you receive a sturdy, good-looking egg basket—as a gift from us. Come in today, get your basket, watch it fill!

Pace-Setter Poultrymen Made Money Last Winter

For a four-month period last winter, hundreds of Swift's Pace-Setter Flock-owners kept accurate records. Read their typical experiences even during the lowest feed-egg ratio in history:

•

"I entered my 550-hen laying flock in Swift's 1954 Pace-Setter Flock Program. At the end of four months in the laying house we still had 525 hens. Fourteen had been culled. Our feed cost was 15.4¢ per dozen. We sold our eggs at an average of 41.8¢ per dozen. I believe Calogen, which is added to Swift's Feed formula, was the primary reason for my flock being so successful. I am still on the Swift Feeding Program and recommend Swift's Feeds containing Calogen to others." —Clareta Spoonts
Priddy, Texas

•

"My pullets were laying in full swing at six months of age. My flock did not require any medicine and was healthy all the time. I never had a single blow out. They have been laying now for nine months at the same pace. I feel that your addition of Calogen to Swift's Feeds really produced a healthy bunch for me." —Mrs. H. M. Gerdes
Auburn, Nebraska

"As far as we are concerned, we think Swift's Laying Feed with Calogen is tops and we intend to continue feeding it." —Mrs. Raymond Redfern
Peru, Nebraska

•

"I have had no sickness of any kind since I started feeding Swift's Poultry Concentrate with Calogen. The birds stay in good laying condition." —H. F. Ackerman
German Valley, Illinois

•

"My flock of 2,100 layers likes the feed better, production remains more uniform during weather changes. My mortality was about 10% less than the same months the previous year." —Paul G. Thurston
Alexandria, Indiana

Deviled Ham Jumbo

It's a submarine . . . it's a jumbo . . . it's a dagwood! Whatever name you give it—it is a heap-big sandwich made with zesty, wonderful tasting, deviled ham. This can be a "take along" or "eat at home" sandwich, simply made by spreading Underwood Deviled Ham on split French rolls, topped with onion and green pepper rings. This man-size sandwich is packed with flavor, packed with nutrition thanks to the whole-ham goodness of the deviled ham.

So plan on a "quicknic"—a quick-to-fix family picnic—on the back porch or in the yard or at the shore. Here are some other popular Underwood Deviled Ham combinations for picnic fixin's:

Deviled ham.... sliced cheese..... chopped black olives
Deviled ham..... sliced tomatoes...grated cheese
Deviled ham..... peanut butter.... chopped apple
Deviled ham..... sliced eggs..... shredded cheese

CREOLE CASSEROLE

Tender rice, savory seasoning, and juicy beef. Blend them together, and — presto! — you've created a Creole dinner dish! It is bright in color, partified in flavor. And it's a wonderful budget-stretcher; a single pound of beef stew-meat serves six hungry people.

1 pound beef stew meat
2 tablespoons shortening
3½ cups (No. 2½ can) canned tomatoes
2 cups diced celery
½ cup diced green pepper
¾ cup sliced onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup uncooked rice

Cut meat into small cubes. Brown in heated shortening. Add tomatoes, celery, green pepper, onions, garlic, salt, and sugar. Bring to boiling point. Pour into 2-quart casserole. Cover.

Bake in moderate oven (350°F) about 15 minutes. Stir rice into casserole. Replace cover and bake about 35 minutes longer, or until rice, meat, and vegetables are tender. Yields six servings.

HOME AGENT NOTES
(By Bervil Elder)

Getting ready for school, makes us realize the cool days are fast approaching. And that means Mother will be making Susie war mskirts and dresses, and Johnny shirts and jackets perhaps.

If the material used is wool, it is a good idea to shrink it before cutting.

To shrink wool at home, wet a sheet in lukewarm water, wring out and lay out flat. Open the material one-half its width, keep the fold in the center, being sure to keep the grain even. If material has been torn, this will be easy to do.

Lay the material on one half of the sheet and fold the other half of the sheet back over the material. Then fold the sheet and material into smooth folds about one foot wide.

Let it stand until thoroughly dampened. Overnight is OK. The time depends on the weight of the material.

Unfold and lightly press on the wrong side. It really does not take much pressing or steaming for wool that has been shrunk. Some wool actually does not have to be pressed at all.

Bed-making

Making up one bed for a year involves a long trip — a four mile walk and 25 hours to make the journey. With extra cover on the bed, the distance and time is even greater.

Try making up one side of the bed completely, then tuck it in at the foot and finish up on the other side. This one-trip bedmaking will cut the distance to one and one fifth miles and the hours to less than 16.

Kinds of Milk

When you buy milk, you will find it in several forms. These definitions should help you select the form that best suits your purpose:

Fresh Ray Milk — unpasteurized; the fat and bacterial count vary. Milk should be pasteurized before using.

Fresh Pasteurized Milk — whole milk that has been heated, then quickly cooled. Pasteurizing destroys the bacteria and makes the fluid milk safe for all uses.

Homogenized Milk — milk in which the fat globules have been broken down into smaller sizes. No cream rises to the top, since it is distributed through the milk.

Vitamin D Milk — milk which has Vitamin D added (the cap and label will tell you.)

Fluid Skim Milk — only the cream or butter fat has been removed. Don't overlook it for cooking or drinking. It is highly nutritious.

Evaporated Milk — over half the water in fluid milk is removed. Milk is sealed in cans, then sterilized by heat. With an equal amount of water added, evaporated milk can be used like any other fluid milk. It can replace fresh milk in cooking.

Sweetened Condensed Milk — whole milk with 50 percent of the water evaporated. Sugar is added to preserve it. (It is usually used in recipes especially designed for it.)

Non-fat Dry Milk — has water & fat removed. With water added, it makes fluid skim milk. In fluid or dry form, it can be used in cooking. This milk has the advantage of both low cost and convenience. Keep it on hand for emergencies.

Buttermilk — originally a by-product of butter making. It is now artificially produced with bacterial cultures from pasteurized skim or partially skimmed milk.

Keep Cool With Fresh Lemonade

Summertime calls for tall cool drinks when friends drop in for the afternoon or evening. And that's when a pitcher of refreshing lemonade is most welcome. It's wonderfully thirst-quenching and rich in Vitamin C—the vitamin that your family needs each day, especially in hot weather. Plain or dressed up with frills, it's a hot weather favorite. Don't forget to serve fresh lemonade to the children when they clamor for something cold to drink—they love it!

For a special taste treat, peel one lemon for each serving (being careful to peel it as you would an apple, with the peel kept in one continuous spiral). Save the peeling, then slice each lemon thinly. Spoon two tablespoons of sugar over the lemon slices, crush slightly and let set for ten minutes or so. Add one cup of water for each serving, stir and pour into glasses that have been filled with the spiraling lemon peel and ice cubes. The slices and peel give lemonade a delicious fresh lemon flavor—looks good too.

NEW FACILITIES ARE PLANNED FOR POPULAR GRENADA LAKE

Plans to provide adequate facilities for the estimated 1,500,000 visitors who are annually taking advantage of the recreational offerings of North Central Mississippi's four giant flood control lakes are currently being undertaken by the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the Mississippi Park Service.

The first of the four lakes to be completed, Sardis, had an attendance of 500,000 in 1954 following completion of modern park facilities, including overnight lodging, boat landings and picnic and camp sites.

Grenada Lake, opened in January 1954, is expected to nearly equal that record by the end of this year. A total of 20,000 visitors were recorded during the July 4th holiday alone.

Both the Corps of Engineers and the Park Service are presently concentrating on this popular recreational area. Two parks to provide accommodations for both white and colored vacationers already are underway and expected to be completed by February 1, 1956.

Meantime, the Corps of Engineers, with headquarters in Vicksburg, has advertised for bids on three main recreational sites and four supplemental boat rental areas. Bids will be opened November 14th.

The main recreational sites which will be leased on the basis of the best proposal for development, are at Grenada Landing at the South end of the Dam; Choctaw Landing on the North shore of the lake at the entrance to the Yalobusha River, and Scuna Turkey Creek, north on the upper arm of the Scuna River. Leases are for 25 years with options to renew.

The Grenada Landing site, with 13.5 acres, calls for overnight accommodations, concessions for food, tackle and boats, a boat dock and floating service dock.

The Choctaw Landing site, with 69.3 acres, calls for about the same facilities, except that more emphasis will be placed on fishing. The Scuna Turkey Creek site also will be devoted principally to fishing with about the same facilities as offered at Grenada and Choctaw Landings.

Successful oidders will have two years in which to complete accommodations. However, initial boat facilities must be completed within 45 days from the time a lease is granted.

All three sites are located on permanent water level areas.

The four supplemental boat rental sites are Gum's Crossing, with 3 acres, Young's Landing, with 19.1 acres; Grovesport Crossing, with 7 acres, and Upper Yalobusha Landing, with 3 acres. The latter three are for high water boat landing docks.

Eventually the Corps of Engineers plans to encourage development of similar facilities at Enid and Arkabutla, between Grenada and Hernando on U. S. Highway 51.

Addition of these facilities is expected to substantially increase attendance at the four lakes and provide Mississippi with an inland recreational area second to none in the state.

Grenada Lake and its tributaries, the Yalobusha and Scuna Rivers afford some of the best fishing to be found in North Central Mississippi. Although the lake was only opened in 1954, excellent catches of crappie, bream, bass and catfish already have been recorded.

Swimming beaches at Grenada Lake have attracted throngs of summer vacationers during the past few months. A total of 20,000 persons visited the lake July 4th and attendance this year is expected to reach 500,000.

Grenada Dam and Lake was built at a cost of $31,200,000 and is part of the overall project of the Engineers to control floodwaters of the Yazoo River Basin at the headwaters of the Yalobusha and Scuna Rivers at Grenada, the Yokena at Enid, the Tallahatchie at Sardis, and the Coldwater at Arkabutla.

The Grenada Lake is Y shaped and when filled to spillway crest extends up the Yalobusha River Valley a distance of 19 miles, with a surface area of approximately 100 square miles. The minimum level of the lake extends 7 miles upstream from the dam, having a surface area of 15 square miles.

The dam itself is an earth fill type rising 80 feet for a distance of 13,900 feet to form the western shore of the lake.

Seven picnic areas already have been set up and the Lake has been stocked with crappie, bream, bass and catfish. Fishermen from Mississippi and surrounding states already are reporting excellent catches.

The Hugh White Park for white citizens will when completed provide a lodge, 10 duplex cabins, camp sites and boat landing docks and swimming facilities.

The Carver Point Park for colored citizens will have a lodge, group sleeping quarters, camp sites, boat landing docks and swimming facilities.

Meantime, several state-wide organizations are constructing camps on the lake. These include the Future Farmers of America and the Girl Scouts.

Grenada Lake, just four miles east of Grenada, is easily accessible to residents from all of North and Central Mississippi. It already is proving to be one of the most popular of the lakes along with Sardis.
